FIRST CONDITIONAL

The first conditional refers to the present and future.

It expresses a possible condition and its probable result in the future.

If +

SIMPLE PRESENT

FUTURE WILL

- If the weather is nice, we will go for a walk.
- If you don't apologize, she will never trust you again.

FUTURE WILL

If +

SIMPLE PRESENT

- We will go for a walk if the weather is nice.
- She will never trust you again if you don't apologize.

If the teacher realizes that the students cheat on the exam, she will cancel the exam.

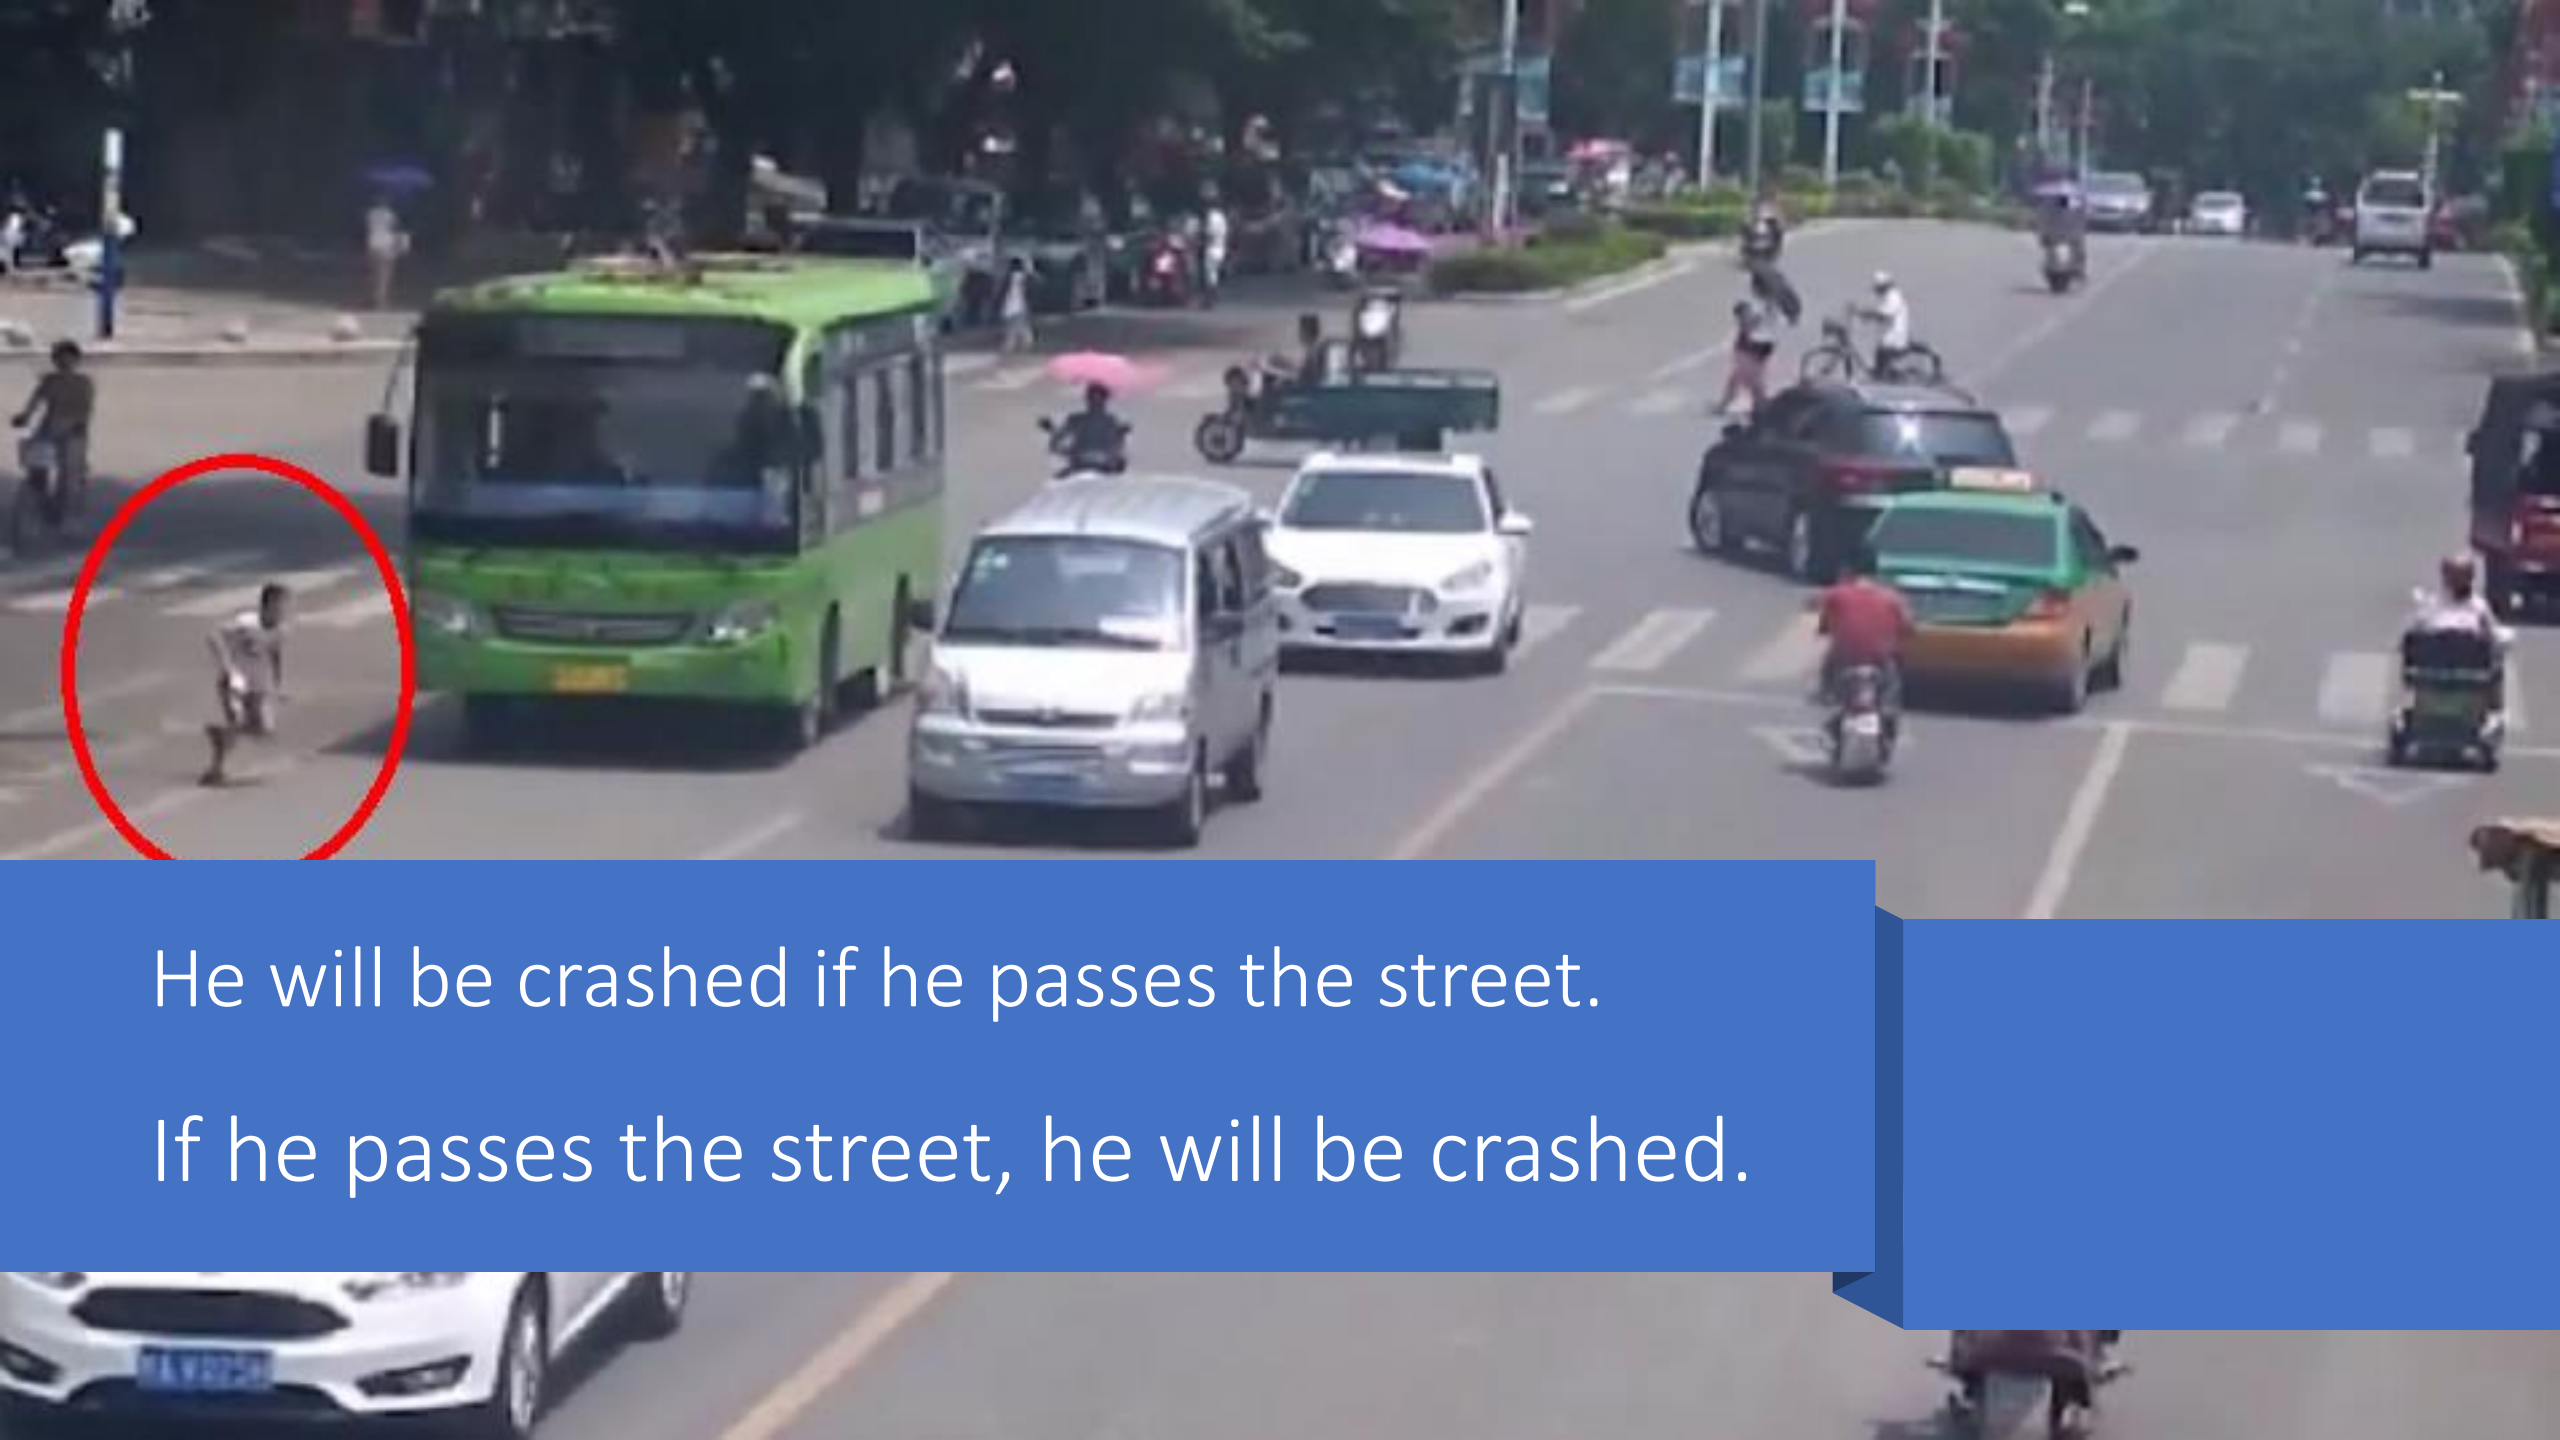

She will cancel the exam, if the teacher realizes that the students cheat on the exam.

If he passes the limit speed, he will get a penalty fee.

He will get a penalty fee if he passes the limit speed.

He will be crashed if he passes the street.

If he passes the street, he will be crashed.

She will kill someone if she uses the cell phone while driving.

If she uses the cell phone while driving, she will kill someone.

