Important
In English use present simple together with an adverb of frequency to describe what someone usually, sometimes or never wears.
Examples:
Charlie is a police officer. He usually wears a uniform.
I'm always late because I never wear a watch.
I sometimes wear dresses.
We also use present continuous to describe what someone is wearing now.
Examples:
He's wearing shorts.
It's is very sunny so we are wearing sunglasses.
It's winter and it is very cold. I am wearing a sweater, a jacket and a hat.
