A group of five people, three men and two women, are standing behind a long grey table in what appears to be a laboratory or food processing facility. They are all wearing blue surgical masks and white hairnets. The man on the far left wears a white t-shirt with a "Yankees" logo. The man next to him wears a black and teal jacket over a white t-shirt with "DENIS & CO" printed on it. The woman in the center wears a white t-shirt with a red graphic. The woman on the far right wears a plain white t-shirt. On the table, there are several food items: a green bowl filled with fresh green herbs, a plate with a piece of pinkish meat, a plate with cooked orange shrimp, a whole fish on a yellow cutting board, a plate with a whole fish and some smaller pieces, and a large black bowl filled with white rice. A hand from someone off-camera is visible in the foreground, pointing towards the food on the table. In the background, there are shelves with various containers and equipment.
