This article documents the basic instructions for how to deploy your Activation Key via the `.xml` file. The steps will vary slightly depending on the version of the Liferay platform you are using. Please note that if you encounter any problems along the way, we have created a separate article specifically for troubleshooting common issues.

DEPLOYMENT OF ACTIVATION KEYS USING .XML FILE IN LIFERAY DXP

To activate a DXP instance using the .xml key file, you can deploy an activation key with the following steps:

1. Delete the contents of the ${liferay.home}/data/license folder without deleting the folder itself.
2. Remove all the activation-key-[...].xml files from the ${liferay.home}/osgi/modules folder.
3. Start the application server, one node at a time if clustering.
4. Place the activation key .xml file in the Liferay DXP deploy directory (${auto.deploy.deploy.dir} which defaults to ${liferay.home}/deploy).
5. Wait for the activation key file to be auto-deployed.
6. Proceed to using Liferay DXP.

Liferay DXP 7.0

1. For Liferay DXP 7.0 and patch levels at or below Fix Pack 53, it is mandatory to uninstall the LCS client
    a. Remove Liferay Connected Services Client.lpkg, located:
        i. In the Tomcat bundle, in the `$ {liferay.home}/osgi/marketplace` folder
        ii. In case of using another application server, in the `OSGi Dependencies/marketplace` folder
2. Delete the contents of the `${liferay.home}/data/license` folder without deleting the folder itself.

5. Place the activation key `.xml` file in the Liferay DXP deploy directory (`${auto.deploy.deploy.dir}` which defaults to `${liferay.home}/deploy`).

Note 1: For best results, please be sure that there are no pre-existing `.li` files in the data/license folder prior to deploying the `.xml` file.
