Dear customer or whom it may concern,

we always strive to optimize our products for our customers. Internal quality control studies have shown that the above-mentioned batch of the product can be used until the extended expiry date. Therefore, we officially extended the shelf life for this batch. We have decided not to relabel or change the product components. This decision also helps to lower the CO_2 footprint of the supply chain, contributing to our ongoing efforts to protect the environment. By avoiding the production and application of new labels, we minimize plastic waste and conserve energy. Additionally, the extended usability of the product itself further supports our commitment to sustainable practices and ESG principles, all while ensuring product safety.
