3.6.2. Capacity Units will only be available during the current Availability Period.

3.6.3. Any unused Capacity Units expire and are forfeited at the end of the current Availability Period and will not be available for use in any subsequent Availability Period.

3.7.2. SAP SE or any of its Affiliates will deduct Per-Unit Factors for any Active AI Service from the Pooled Capacity Units based on the following criteria ("Pooled Capacity Units Deduction Logic"), independent of the current subscription term of any agreement that includes AI capacity units:

a) If multiple agreements with a positive balance of AI capacity units have different availability period expiration dates, Per-Unit Factors will be deducted first from the agreement that has the earliest availability period expiration date;

b) If multiple agreements with a positive balance of AI capacity units have the same availability period expiration date, Per-Unit Factors will be deducted from the agreement with the earliest availability period start date; and

c) If multiple agreements with a positive balance of AI capacity units have the same availability period expiration date and the same availability period start date, Per-Unit Factors will be deducted from the agreement with the earliest contract start date.

3.8. Consumption of Pooled Capacity Units

3.8.1. If Pooled Capacity Units are available, SAP SE or any of its Affiliates will:

a) deduct fees for any Active AI Service based on the corresponding Per-Unit Factor according to the Pooled Capacity Units Deduction Logic; and

b) provide a monthly balance statement for the preceding calendar month reflecting:

i. any Active AI Service;

ii. in case of AI Business Packages, the number of assigned AI Users and related AI Business Package Requests as well as the use of AI Business Package Requests each per AI Business Package; and

iii. the remaining balance of Pooled Capacity Units.

3.8.2. If all Pooled Capacity Units with a positive balance of AI capacity units for the current availability periods have been fully consumed according to the Pooled Capacity Units Deduction Logic, fees for the use of any Active AI Service will accrue based on the Pooled Excess Use PPU from that agreement that SAP SE or any of its Affiliates will deduct or has deducted the last AI capacity units from based on the Pooled Capacity Units Deduction Logic.

3.8.3. Customer may only use the Pooled Capacity Units allocated to it. Customer is not allowed to use, participate in or benefit from any AI capacity units allocated to any other company even if it is an affiliate of that company. Customer may not enable any Affiliate that has its own AI capacity units to participate in its Pooled Capacity Units or use Customer's Pooled Capacity Units to run such Affiliate's internal business operations.

3.9. Minimum Usage/Rounding Up

3.9.1. Customer may only use a quantity in blocks equal to or greater than the "Minimum Usage Requirement" specified in the Eligible AI Feature Guide.

3.9.2. For each Active AI Service, any decimal value calculated based on use of AI Features will be rounded up to the next full AI Unit value.

3.10. For Consumption-Based Agents and any other Eligible AI Service that is not an AI Business Package, the following section does not apply as these are not based on an AI User/Request relationship.

3.11. For AI Business Packages, the following section also applies:

For AI Business Packages, Customer subscribes to AI Users by activating an AI Business Package and assigning AI Users to it. An AI Business Package may only be used by AI Users assigned to it.

3.11.1.1. Addition and Removal of AI Users

a) Customer may add AI Users to and remove AI Users from any AI Business Package at any time.

b) If Customer adds any AI User to an AI Business Package during a calendar month, the corresponding Per-Unit Factor will be charged retroactively for the entire month.

c) If Customer removes any AI User from an AI Business Package during a calendar month, the corresponding Per-Unit Factor will be charged for the entire month. The removed AI Users will be deactivated immediately and may no longer be used. However, the AI Business Package Requests related to such removed AI User remain and may be utilized by any other remaining AI User for the same AI Business Package.

3.11.1.2. Pooling and Overuse of AI Business Package Requests

a) For each AI User that Customer adds to an AI Business Package, Customer receives the related number of AI Business Package Requests per calendar month as stated in the Eligible AI Feature Guide.

b) Any AI Business Package Request will be pooled with all other AI Business Package Requests that Customer receives for the same AI Business Package ("Pooled Request"). Pooling of AI Business Package Requests across different AI Business Packages is explicitly excluded.

c) Any AI User that has been Activated and not Deactivated for an AI Business Package may use the Pooled Requests available for such AI Business Package.

d) The monthly balance statement will indicate the number of AI Business Package Requests that Customer consumed by using AI Features available under an AI Business Package.

e) Pooled Requests will only be available during the current calendar month.

f) Any unused Pooled Requests expire and are forfeited at the end of each calendar month and will not be available for use in any subsequent calendar months.

g) If the Pooled Requests available for the current calendar month have been fully consumed, SAP SE or any of its Affiliates will deduct any excess use monthly in arrears from the Pooled Capacity Units; whereby such excess use will be calculated separately for each AI Business Package based on the Per-Unit Factors for "Overage Request" specified in the Eligible AI Feature Guide. There will be no aggregation of "Overage Requests" across AI Business Packages.

3.11.1.3. When the Agreement expires, is terminated, non-renewed or ends in any other way, any Pooled Requests will expire and are forfeited.

3.12. Active AI Service as Cloud Service

Each Active AI Service is deemed a Cloud Service as defined in the Cloud EULA and subject to the SAP AI Units Supplement posted on the SAP Agreements Website under http://www.sap.com/agreements-cloud-supplement. The System Availability SLA (unless stated otherwise in the Eligible AI Feature Guide), Maintenance Windows and Major Upgrade Windows as stated in the SLA apply, unless an Active AI Service is embedded in a Cloud Service in which case the SLA provisions of the underlying Cloud Service would apply.

3.13. Activation and Deactivation of Active AI Services

3.13.1. If an Active AI Service is embedded in a Cloud Service, Activation requires Customer to have a current subscription to the Cloud Service that an AI Feature is embedded in or connected to.

3.13.2. Customer is solely responsible for Activation of any Consumption-Based Agent, AI Business Package and AI Feature and Deactivation of any Active AI Service as well as for the adding and removing of AI Users to any AI Business Package.

a) authorizes the technical administrator set out in this Cloud EULA Acceptance Form (and any successor designated by Customer) to:

i. undertake Activation of any Consumption-Based Agent, AI Business Package and AI Feature as well as Deactivation of any Active AI Service; and

ii. add any AI User to and remove any AI Users from any AI Business Package.

b) is solely responsible for any acts or omissions taken by such administrators.

3.14. Changes to Eligible AI Feature Guide

3.14.1. Adding and Removing Eligible AI Services and AI Features

3.14.1.1. SAP SE or any of its Affiliates may remove any AI Business Package and other Eligible AI Service from the Eligible AI Feature Guide by giving Customer 6 months' prior notice ("Removed AI Service"). SAP SE or any of its Affiliates shall give such notice by email, through SAP For Me or another administrative dashboard provided by SAP SE or any of its Affiliates. During the notice period, Customer can continue Activating and Deactivating any AI Business Package and other Eligible AI Service as well as using any AI Feature thereunder.

3.14.1.2. Thereafter, Customer may keep Activated such Removed AI Service and continue using any AI Feature of the Removed AI Service for the remainder of the Subscription Term if the Removed AI Service belongs to Group 1. This exception does not apply to any Removed AI Service belonging to Group 2.

3.14.1.3. By default, all AI Business Packages and other Eligible AI Services belong to Group 1, unless SAP SE or any of its Affiliates has explicitly classified any AI Business Package or any other Eligible AI Service as Group 2 in the Eligible AI Feature Guide. AI Business Packages and other Eligible AI Services categorized as Group 2 can be moved to Group 1 but not the other way round.
